ANOTHER RUSSIAN LOAN.

The most interesting news to-day is the announcement that the Russian Government has decided to raise another loan of 200 million marks owing to the poor success of the recent internal loan. There is no appeal to France this time, and the preliminaries have been arranged in Berlin. It has become perfectly plain that the French financiers, who were strongly opposed to the war from the very outset, are still more opposed to its continuance under the hopeless conditions to which Russia has been reduced. France has been unprecedentedly generous and confiding during the last ten years, though it must not be forgotten that the Russian Alliance gave her a feeling of security in Europe to which she had long been stranger, and for which she was willing to make the most handsome acknowledgments in her power. Her thrifty and frugal people hold Russian securities to the extent of four hundred millions sterling—a stupendous sum in itself, and still more stupendous when one thinks of Russia's financial status in the scale of the nations. During the last twelve months France has found Russia fully thirty millions more. The Russians, therefore, cannot possibly complain that their ally has not trusted them. On the contrary, she has trusted them, if anything, too implicitly, and allowed her political gratitude to interfere considerably with strict business prudence.

Russia's one financial hope now is Berlin, for the English market is closed to her, and the American regards Russian securities with equal disfavour. But Berlin finance plumes itself on its purely business principles strained clear of every extraneous sediment, and this morning's telegram states that the terms of the new loans are to be increased in severity. But it is not probable that Germany will finance the war for Russia indefinitely, and if her reverses continue, it is unlikely many more loans will be raised. At the same time it is advisable to discount all the ill-considered talk and writing about the strain of the war upon the financial resources of the two belligerents. No well-informed person, of course, will dispute that war is very costly. It wastes both wealth and life; it lessens production because it diverts both labour and capital from productive to unproductive employment; it lessens confidence by causing apprehensions, and even scares; and it adds to taxation. But the merely financial effects of war very soon pass away. In the present instance, and especially in the case of Russia, the real danger is to be found not in the financial, but in the sentimental influence which the struggle may have. She has a vast amount of gold at home, and she has the power to issue inconvertible paper to any extent she pleases. It is quite true, of course, that all this will tell upon the material condition of the people, and will be felt as a sore burden for a time. But it will be so chiefly, not because of the mere cost of the war itself, but because of the unfavourable economic condition of Russia when hostilities broke out. Owing partly to misgovernment, partly to the ignorance of the people themselves, partly to rash speculation, and partly to unfavourable seasons, Russia was in the throes of a long drawn-out crisis when the struggle began. The crisis was due immediately to bad seasons causing failure of the crops over a large part of the Empire, and it was intensified by rash industrial enterprise, injudicious loans by the banks, and, of course, by the heavy taxation of the Government. The people, consequently, are not in a state to bear any material addition to their burdens, and the war, therefore, will tell upon them more than it otherwise would have done.

But even so, it is not the mere financial results so much as the possible sentimental effects that are to be dreaded. The whole population, as we have just been saying, is in deep distress, which is aggravated by the shock to credit and the disturbance given to all kinds of business by the war. In addition to that, misgovernment had driven a very considerable section, even of the Russians themselves, into a suppressed revolt, which every now and then demonstrates itself by the assassination of Ministers and other great officials. Outside of Russia proper, the Poles, the Finns, and the Armenians have been driven almost to madness by oppression; and it is hardly necessary to add that the Jews are equally disaffected. As long as the army obeys orders the Government can maintain order, in spite of the almost universal disaffection. But if Russian reverses continue there is a possibility, though we doubt if it amounts to a probability, that a considerable part of the army may become disaffected. And in that case nobody can foresee what may happen. On the other hand, there is an equal possibility, and we think a greater probability, that the Government may be alarmed respecting the consequences if reverses continue in Manchuria, or if the armada of Rodjestvensky and Nebgotoff is destroyed, and that it may, therefore, enter upon a great policy of reform, as the grandfather of the present Tsar did after the Crimean war. If this should happen, the war will prove to be a blessing in disguise, and its unfavourable financial effects will soon pass away.

UNREST IN RUSSIA.

ORGANISED HOOLIGANISM.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 27.

A feeling akin to consternation has been occasioned by rumours, reproduced by the leading newspapers, to the effect that 15,000 hooligans have organised themselves into bands with the object of attacking all so-called "intellectuals" found in the streets at Eastertide. The authorities have taken elaborate precautions, and a special contingent of Don Cossacks has arrived here. There has been a general exodus of the aristocratic and middle classes over the holidays. Reports from the provinces indicate similar fears there, and especially in connection with the 1st May, which is the Russian Easter Monday.

General Trepoff in a proclamation assures the population that order will be preserved with the armed force if necessary. (Reuter.)

DRINK QUESTION IN EGYPT.

NATIVE OPINION.

The Cairo correspondent of "Al Bassir" writes:—Many liquor merchants in Cairo and the provinces complain of the way in which their licenses are being taken from them by the authorities, on the ground that it is in accordance with the circular issued by the Ministry of the Interior. If this is so it is very strange, for a license once granted and delivered should not be withdrawn without good reason, but if the Government should think proper to do so at least it should refund the amount paid for the license. I am told that a café keeper sold his café to another man; the buyer applied for a license, but the Government refused to grant one; the applicant protested, but the Government persisted, and at last he was told that if he wished to go on with the café he should allow it to remain in the name of the former proprietor, and induce him to stay with him there. If a license was given to the former owner why should it not be given to the new comer as well? Both offer similar guarantees and are of the same profession.

If it is the intention of our Government to suppress the sale of alcoholic drinks by this treatment we must thank them, and wish them all success in their efforts; but this is not the way to bring about the end desired. A heavy tax should be imposed on alcoholic liquors; if the tax be not paid in time then the place should be closed, as is the case in the Sudan and in America, where the Government also makes it a condition that liquors of bad quality are liable to be confiscated and spoiled, and the place closed. Under these conditions the sale of intoxicants would be greatly diminished, and the quality of liquors be kept at a high grade.

The plan followed by our Government of withdrawing a license or delaying to grant one, has no effect whatever, especially when the applicant depends upon a foreign authority, and acts in accordance with orders received from his own consul exclusively. What could the Government do with such a person if he persisted in opening his shop, whether he had previously obtained a license or whether a license had been refused?

THE SALE OF HASHISH.

A correspondent writes:—I think it is as well to contradict a misstatement in a letter in your Wednesday's issue, in which it is stated that the sale of hashish has been eliminated from the market. On the contrary it is well known that this article has never been so cheap nor so easily obtained as at present. The Coastguard officers, it is true, receive £4,000 a year in prize money, but it is sold afterwards, it is believed, by the ill-paid Coastguard "Tommy," who only gets a pittance of four dollars a month. Unless a heavy penalty is placed on the sale of hashish it will continue to be a moveable commodity, shifting backward and forward between those who seize it as contraband and those who sell it to the small captains of the wooden crafts in port, who manage to convey it into town for sale. It must be hoped that the "white slaves" will not pass from hand to hand in a similar manner. They will certainly be harder to keep dark than the noxious herb.

SIR WM. GARSTIN'S REPORT.—The National Printing Office has commenced printing the Arabic translation of Sir Wm. Garstin's report on the Upper Nile.

MEX.—The season at Mex is now getting into full swing. An excellent orchestra plays at Prince's Café and the last tram leaves Mex for the city at 10 p.m.

ARMY OF OCCUPATION.—It is announced in yesterday's Army Orders that Brigadier-General G. M. Bullock, C.B., has assumed command of the troops in Egypt, with effect from 16th March, 1905.

A DESERTER.—The Gouvernorat has condemned a policeman to 42 days' hard labour and 20 strokes of the kourbash for having deserted. Another policeman was sent to prison for six months on a charge of theft.

BANDMANN OPERA COMPANY.—On Sunday next, at 9 p.m., a performance of "The Toreador" will be given on behalf of the Israelite Free Schools by the members of the Bandmann Opera Company at the Khedivial Opera House.

SHEM EN-NESSIM TRIPS.—The Railway Administration intend putting on two extra trains between Pont Limoun and Marg, and, running a number of special trains between Cairo and the Barrage, on Shem en-Nessim.

A NEW MUSIC HALL for Alexandria is to be built on the site now occupied by the Eden Theatre. The land has been let for ten years to the proprietor of the Eiffel Tower café-chantant.

SUEZ CANAL.—9 ships passed through the Canal on the 25th inst., 4 of which were British, 2 Dutch, 1 French, 1 Russian, 1 Turkish. The receipts for the day were frs. 232,452.01, making the total from the 1st inst. frs. 8,487,430.72.

TOKAR SYNDICATE.—Application has been made to the London Stock Exchange to appoint a special settling day in Tokar (Sudan) Prospecting Syndicate, 5,000 shares of £1 each, fully paid, Nos. 1 to 5,000.

HARDLY A QUALIFICATION.—A member of the Stock Exchange who has just come out to Egypt in the interests of a large Anglo-Egyptian house was asked whether he could talk Egyptian. "No," was the reply, "but I can play pyramids."

JEWEL THIEF CAPTURED.—The Cairo police have succeeded in laying hands on the man who stole two brilliants valued at £250 from Carissian's jewellery establishment the other day. His name is Farid Maricius, and he holds an official position in Khartoum.

IMPERIAL OTTOMAN BANK.—The agencies of this bank in Egypt will shortly be transferred from the control of the Constantinople headquarters of the Bank and placed under the direct control of the London and Paris committees, more especially of the former.

AN ELECTRICAL SPINNING MILL.—The Acme Spinning Company are building, at Pendlebury, near Manchester, a mammoth mill, to be called the "Acme," which will contain about 80,000 spindles, and will cost, with equipment, nearly £100,000. It will be the first spinning-mill in Lancashire to be electrified.

MURDERER SENTENCED.—The Native Court of Appeal has condemned to death Mohamed Ali El-Naggar, of Kotour (Gharbieh), for the murder of one Aly Ismail Abu Shadi. The wife of the murdered man allowed the murderer to enter the house and Ismail was killed by a blow from a hatchet while he slept.

EGYPTIAN PALÆOLITHS.—Mr. H. R. Hall has been searching, in company with Mr. E. R. Ayrton, for palæoliths in the Western Thebaid, and has published in "Man" for March a selection from his discoveries, which he compares very effectively with some British specimens. They support the affirmative side of the question whether real palæoliths have been found in Egypt.

A SLUMP.—In financial circles yesterday evening rumours were in circulation that complications had occurred in regard to Morocco. Private telegrams, which were received on the subject, showed that the London and Paris Exchanges had been adversely affected, something of a slump having taken place. The absence of any confirmation of these rumours in either Reuter or Havas's wires this morning, however, and the firmer tone in Europe, tends to show that the slump was purely a Stock Exchange manœuvre. It is lucky that the local Bourse was closed today, as some excitable spirits might have been led away by these rumours. The chances of a great European war at the present moment is very remote, and there is extremely little likelihood that the Morocco question should enter on an acute phase at the very moment of the King's visit to Paris.

THE TRADE OF EGYPT.

MARCH RETURNS.

The value of the imports into Egypt during last month is given in the Customs returns as L.E. 1,674,052. This figure exceeds the total for the corresponding month last year by L.E. 57,985. This is very significant, for March, 1904, was an exceptionally prosperous month as regards the import returns, having exceeded the total returns for the previous March by L.E. 354,574, or 28 per cent. If last month Egypt succeeded in increasing this by nearly L.E. 60,000, it shows the extraordinary prosperity of the country. We have drawn special attention to the comparison, because March, 1904, was exceptional, the great increase in imports being the inevitable consequence and indication of the profits made by the country on the cotton crop, which realised the highest prices of recent years. The high price last year formed a purely adventitious factor in this prosperity, and it would therefore have been no matter for surprise if we had had to register a decline during last month from the maximum figures of foreign trade, which would only have been a legitimate reaction. But instead of such a reaction we find that last month, with cotton far below last year's prices, Egypt increased her total imports by nearly L.E. 60,000 over March, 1904. The permanent expansion of trade is surely the safest criterion of the country's progress.

For the first quarter of the year the excess over 1904 is L.E. 552,985. The excess of that quarter over the corresponding period in 1903 was L.E. 431,460.

The exports amounted to L.E. 1,924,770, a decrease of L.E. 366,133 on March last year. The cotton exports totalled L.E. 1,445,331, a decrease of L.E. 432,148 on the figures for March in the corresponding year. The total value of the cotton exported during the first quarter was L.E. 193,225, a decrease of L.E. 1,963,361 on the same period last year.

DAIRA SANIEH COMPANY.

The report for 1904 shows a profit of £9,806 as compared with £28,807 for 1903 (which included the difference between the price paid to the Daira Sanieh Administration and the amount realised by the sale of the factories). With the balance of £9,506 brought forward from the previous year, there is now a total amount to credit of profit and loss of £19,312. It is proposed to declare a dividend of 3s. each on the ordinary shares, leaving to be carried forward £1,672. The total sales of land (including those made by the Daira Sanieh Administration) up to December 31, 1904, amounted to 287,003 feddans and £E11,064,427, to which must be added for the factories (exclusive of land) £E 11,815,677. Sales from December 31, 1904, to March 31, 1905, have amounted to £E 10,275, making a total of £E11,825,952. The lands still remaining to be sold amount to 92 feddans, of an estimated value of £E14,150.

COTTON COMMISSION FEES.

HEAVY FINES IN LIVERPOOL.

There was considerable stir upon the Liverpool cotton floors when it became known that the board of directors of the Cotton Association had, after prolonged investigation, decided to inflict a fine of £1,000 each on two members of the association, who have been buying brokers. The said brokers have, it is said, seriously broken the rules and regulations of the association as to commission charges for buying cotton futures. Four spinners, who are associate members of the association, are implicated, and have been fined £250 each. It seems the two brokers have not been charging the usual fees for purchasing futures, in the hope of securing the spot business of the four spinning firms.

SUDAN COTTON GROWING.

Cotton-growing in the Sudan for export purposes cannot as yet be said to have passed out of the experimental stage. The reports on the cotton-growing possibilities of the country are satisfactory, but it remains to be proved whether it can be grown in any quantity under the existing limitations as regards irrigation. Nothing can be done to improve, to any great extent, the water-supply of the Sudan until Mr. Dupuis' report has been received and fully considered. The question of railway communication, which is equally important to that of water-supply, will have received a partial solution when the Nile-Red Sea Railway is completed.

DISCOVERY OF LIGNITE.

A deposit of lignite has been found in the province of Dongola, and the question of whether it is of sufficient extent to be of any general use is now being investigated. The report on samples sent to London by the Nubia Sudan Development Company has proved so satisfactory that the directors have decided to start operations on the east bank of the Nile, opposite the town of Dongola, and a diamond-drill has been brought up for this purpose.

DISAPPEARING LANDMARKS.

ZARANI'S CAFÉ LEASED.

One after another the theatres of Alexandria are going, and now it is the turn of the cafés to disappear. The Zizinia Theatre has been disposed of and will, it is said, have to make room for the palatial additions which the Splendid Hotels Company intend to graft on the New Khedivial Hotel. The site of the Alhambra Theatre is only awaiting a purchaser to be turned into flats or offices. The Abbas Helmy Theatre has been burnt down, and it has not been decided to erect another theatre on the site. Now, Zarani's Café, which is undoubtedly the finest café in Egypt, is to disappear. The Alexandria Exchange Company have leased the place and its appurtenances to Messrs. Thos. Cook and Son (Egypt), Limited, for a number of years. Messrs. Cook intend making it their offices at Alexandria for not only their tourist business but also for their engineering department, their forwarding business, etc. It is one of the most commanding sites in Alexandria and we congratulate Messrs. Cook on their enterprise in having acquired this excellent property for a term of years on what, we understand, are favorable terms.

THE KHEDIVE.

H. H. the Khedive gave audience yesterday to H. E. Mirza Ali Asghar Khan, Persian Diplomatic Agent, who presented M.M. Teimed Daulah Dir, Mirza Mahdi Khan, proprietor of "El Hikmat," Mihran Khan, Persian Consul at Alexandria, Mohamed Tayeb Bey, secretary to the Persian Diplomatic Agency, and Agha Mohamed Ali Rashti, a well known Persian merchant of Alexandria, who thanked his Highness for the distinctions that he had been pleased to confer on them.

His Highness visited the El Mardam Mosque, in the Darb el Ahmar quarter, for prayers this morning.

The "Moayad" points out that this big mosque has been abandoned for the last thirty-six years owing to the state of decay in which it was. The Wakfs Administration has lately at the command of the Khedive, completely repaired it at a cost of over L.E. 30,000.

A guard of honor, composed of 2 officers, 100 rank and file, band, and regimental colour of the 2nd Battalion Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, will parade at the central railway station, Cairo, at 7.25 a.m. on Thursday, 4th May, on the occasion of the departure of his Highness for Alexandria.

His Highness will hold his first reception at Ras el Tin on Saturday, May 6.

COUNCIL OF MINISTERS.

Among the decisions taken by the Council of Ministers yesterday are the following:—

1. A decree was signed consenting to the formation of the Société Egyptienne d'entreprises urbaines et rurales.

ALEXANDRIA LINER DAMAGED.

Early in the morning of Wednesday week a collision occurred in the Firth of Clydebefween the steamer "Jerania," 1,286 tons, and the Ellerman liner "Adalia," 2,482 tons, the former outward bound from Glasgow for Alexandria, and the latter inward bound from Alexandria. The "Jerania" was so badly damaged that she was compelled to return to Glasgow with the forepeak full of water. The "Adalia" was damaged amidships.

THE S.S. "CANDLESHOE".

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

Port Said, Wednesday.

This morning, at 6 o'clock, I proceeded on board this vessel and found that already a very considerable portion of the cargo of rice had been discharged during the night. It was all quite spoilt by fire, smoke, and water. The seat of the conflagration was apparently in one corner of the 'tween decks of No. 2 hold, where now nothing is to be seen but charred and blackened bags of ruined rice.

Several hold beams and frames are much damaged by heat, and excluding the value of the cargo, which is practically speaking quite spoiled in that hold, I should say the damage to the ship is very considerable.

The vessel is fully insured, I understand, and the damaged cargo will, in so far as the water-damage is concerned, come under the "General Average" clause.

There is still a large quantity of water in the holds and the ship in consequence has a heavy list, which, however, is not dangerous. The work of discharging still goes on.

"THE HOLY CITY."

On Tuesday last, an effective rendering of Gaul's sacred cantata "The Holy City" was given in St. Mark's Church by the choir, augmented by members of the choir of All Saints', Ramleh, under the steady and able conductorship of Mr. William Smith. It is perhaps to be regretted that the opening quartet was not sung as such, as a somewhat overpowering result was produced by singing it "full," which detracted from the general effect evidently intended by this beautiful piece of harmony. It would obviously be invidious to pick out any individual rendering from among the solo work, as it was evident that the soloists had taken great pains, and one and all gave great pleasure in the numbers that had been allotted them. Miss MacGavin was heard with great effect in the solo, "He that overcometh," and the trio, "As Eventide it shall be light," sung by Mrs. Baylis, Miss Callender and Mrs. Roberts, was rendered with a great appreciation of the spirit in which both words and music are so happily combined. The quartet and chorus, "Lift the Churchis Host," over which a bass solo was excellently sung by Mr. Percy Smith, gave great pleasure, and by no means the least effective feature was the "harp" accompaniment played on the piano by Mr. Crafton in a manner which quite made up for the absence of the instrument originally intended. Mention must also be made of the duet between Miss Callender and Mrs. Roberts, which, in the opinion of some, was the most thoroughly artistic piece of singing of the evening. Mr. W. F. Sargeant and Mr. J. Purvis were admirable in what they had to render in the soprano part in order, though possibly first in importance, must we mention the steady playing of the organist, Mr. Heaton, who contributed very largely to the success of what was universally pronounced a most enjoyable and musically performance of an undoubtedly beautiful work. As regards the singing of the choristers, it is not so easy to speak. The basses were a trifle weak, and there was a certain lack of "stick" in the altos, but the sopranos were very good indeed. There will be another performance of the cantata in All Saints' Church, Ramleh, on Tuesday, May 2, at 6.30 p.m.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EGYPTIAN GAZETTE.

Dear Mr. Editor,—I quite agree with "Harmony" that your scanty report regarding Tuesday recital at St. Mark's showed a great want of taste and courtesy towards those who gave up their time, talent, and gifts for weeks towards making the show of the afternoon a success. The cursory reference by the writer to the choir, and the prominence given to the tablet and persons present at the unveiling, cannot but give one the idea that he knows which side his bread is buttered, but he may make a mistake.—Your truly,

ACCORD.

Alexandria, 28 April.

[Our columns being open to all our readers we publish our correspondent's letter, but we must again point out that the above specially-written criticism of the cantata was only held over owing to want of space. The writer of the general report of the proceedings and that of the criticism are two separate individuals. ED. E.G.]

COMMISSION MUNICIPALE

(Communication Officielle)

La Commission Municipale s'est réunie le 26 avril 1905 à 4 h. p.m. sous la présidence de S. E. Mahmoud Pacha Sidky.

Présents MM. Amb. A. Ralli, vice-président, Abdel Moneim Bey Dalil, Ahmed Bey Yehia, E. Benachi, Hussein Bey Riaz, L. Escoffier, P. Fenderl, E. W. P. Foster, Mansour Bey Youssef, Baron A. de Menasce, O. Rothaker, A. Padoa Bey, Dr Schiess Bey, E. Stross, T. Sarzanini, Dr G. Valenain, G. Zervudachi, membres, W. P. Chataway, administrateur, I. Sedky Bey, secrétaire.

Les procès-verbaux de la Commission Municipale des 22 février et 1er Mars 1905 sont adoptés.

Mention est faite de l'envoi à tous les membres des procès-verbaux de la Délégation du 21 mars au 11 avril 1905.

Ahmed Bey Yehia dit que les habitants du Caire tant indigènes qu'européens ont tenu à célébrer dignement le centenaire de l'avènement au trône du Grand Mehemet Aly.

La ville d'Alexandrie qui doit à cet illustre souverain la plus grande part de sa prospérité actuelle ne saurait laisser passer l'anniversaire d'un événement aussi heureux, sans manifester sa reconnaissance d'une façon éclatante.

La statue de Mehemet Aly érigée sur la plus belle place de cette ville est la consécration des bienfaits sans nombre que le fondateur de la dynastie a prodigués à notre cité et témoigne de l'attachement qu'il avait pour elle.

La Municipalité d'Alexandrie qui représente indistinctement les habitants de cette ville, sera certainement heureuse, après avoir généreusement contribué à l'établissement d'une fondation industrielle qui doit porter le nom de Mehemet Aly, de participer comme il convient dans les fêtes qui seront données dans cette circonstance mémorable.

Ahmed Bey Yehia propose à cet effet l'ouverture d'un crédit de L.E. 1,000.

L'unanimité des membres de la Commission remercie Yehia Bey pour avoir exprimé un sentiment qui répond à un désir qui les anime tous. Mais l'Assemblée considère que son devoir en la circonstance ne doit pas se traduire par une simple collaboration mais qu'elle doit à sa situation, de prendre elle-même l'initiative des fêtes à célébrer et de recueillir les concours que ne manquera pas de provoquer dans le public l'importance de l'événement à commémorer.

Elle ouvre dans ce but un crédit de L.E. 1,000 auxquels s'ajoutera le montant des souscriptions déjà ouvertes parmi la population.

La Commission présidera, comme Comité, toute entière à l'organisation des fêtes et s'adjoindra parmi les personnes étrangères à son sein, les notabilités dont le concours ne peut manquer de lui être utile.

Un sous-comité, composé de MM. Yehia Bey, de Menasce et Zervudachi, est chargé des détails d'organisation, et pourra lui aussi se faire assister par toute collaboration étrangère à la Commission.

Communication est donnée de deux lettres de S. E. le Ministre de l'Intérieur transmettant les remarques faites par les Départements des Finances, des Travaux Publics et des Services Sanitaires au sujet du règlement sur la vente des biens de la Municipalité, arrêté par la Commission dans sa séance du 22 février dernier.

L'Assemblée adopte à ce sujet les observations de son Comité du Contentieux et décide de les transmettre au Ministère.

Elle compte sur une prompte approbation de ce règlement en vue de la mise en vente des terrains.

Communication est également donnée d'une lettre de S. E. le Ministre de l'Intérieur apportant avec quelques modifications de détail, le règlement sur les chiens et la rage, en vue de son application provisoire jusqu'à la promulgation d'un règlement pour toute l'Egypte actuellement en voie d'élaboration.

La Commission arrête son règlement, en conséquence, mais elle estime que celui-ci devra avoir un caractère définitif, à moins que l'Assemblée n'inspirant des dispositions qui seront prises par le Gouvernement, ne juge opportun d'apporter des modifications à son propre règlement.

Lecture est donnée d'une dépêche de S. E. le Ministre de l'Intérieur informant qu'il approuve la décision de la Commission relative à la réorganisation des services.

Il est également donné lecture d'une lettre de S. E. le Ministre de l'Intérieur portant certaines observations au sujet du règlement sur la taxe des voitures et bestiaux.

La Commission adopte à ce sujet une note de son Comité du Contentieux mais pour ce qui concerne le relèvement de la taxe sur les voitures numérotées, il est entendu qu'il ne sera appliqué qu'à partir de 1906.

Sur la proposition de M. Escoffier, la Commission décide de mettre à l'étude un projet de suppression graduelle des tombereaux à deux roues, en raison des dégradations qu'ils font subir aux voies publiques et leur remplacement par des charrettes à quatre roues ainsi que l'établissement d'une règle fixant la largeur des jantes des charrois.

Relativement aux automobiles, la Commission se rapporte à la vigilance de la police pour empêcher les vitesses exagérées dans les rues populeuses.

Lecture est donnée de deux lettres de S. E. le Ministre de l'Intérieur et de la direction des services sanitaires au sujet de la question de la pollution des eaux du canal Mahmoudieh.

La Commission prend note de ce que sur la recommandation des services sanitaires, la Délégation a demandé aux services un devis pour le remplacement du canal de dérivation du Farkha par une conduite fermée en fer qui amènerait l'eau directement des pompes du canal Mahmoudieh à l'usine des Eaux.

La Commission sur la proposition de la Délégation décide l'ouverture des crédits suivants :

L.E. 600, à prélever sur le budget extraordinaire, pour les travaux de modification et d'entretien nécessaires pour le jardin Nouzha jusqu'à la fin de l'année.

L.E. 933, à prélever sur le même budget, pour l'octroi de gratifications aux percepteurs.

La somme nécessaire à ces gratifications devra être prévue dans le budget ordinaire de chaque année.

L.E. 4.879 à prélever sur le budget extraordinaire en vue de faire face à l'excédent de crédits que nécessite le programme de confection de nouvelles routes cette année.

L.E. 1,251, à prélever sur le solde disponible de l'emprunt, pour l'exécution du complément du collecteur Est à partir de la Porte Rosette jusqu'au Rond-Point de la Compagnie des Eaux, travail adjugé par la Délégation à M. Gerakis.

L.E. 300 à prélever sur le budget extraordinaire, pour une allocation à la veuve de M. Emin Bey, ancien directeur du service de la propriété bâtie, décédé.

Sur le rapport du Comité des Finances et la proposition de la Délégation, la Commission approuve les comptes de l'exercice 1904 ainsi que les propositions de l'administrateur qui les accompagnent.

La Commission ratifie l'entente conclue par le Comité spécial des plantations avec M. André, ingénieur paysagiste.

Celui-ci recevra L.E. 600 pour la confection des plans, devis etc. relatifs à la transformation et parcs des fortifications et terrains adjacents situés des deux côtés de la Porte Rosette. La remise des dits documents devra avoir lieu avant le 15 octobre prochain.

La Commission décidera si M. André devra donner les premières indications en ce qui concerne la mise en train du travail, auquel il lui sera alloué L.E. 150, tous frais compris, pour le séjour d'un mois environ qu'il fera à Alexandrie dans ce but.

A cette occasion, la Commission se référant au vœu émis par le Comité des Finances, lors de l'examen du budget de 1905, et en prévision des travaux des parcs qui auront besoin d'une direction spéciale, décide la nomination d'un jardinier paysagiste dans la classe de L.E. 22 à 26.

Un concours sera ouvert à cet effet.

La Commission approuve le rapport du Comité des travaux publics tendant à renvoyer les propositions de MM. Cumbo et Zoure relatives au badigeonnage et aux enduits des maisons jusqu'au moment de l'élaboration du règlement sur les constructions actuellement à l'étude.

La Commission autorise l'administration à ester en justice dans diverses affaires judiciaires.

Le projet de règlement intérieur est renvoyé à nouveau au Comité de réorganisation qui invitera les autres membres de l'Assemblée Plénière à une réunion où chacun pourra développer ses objections, en vue d'arriver à une entente sur le texte avant de le soumettre à la Commission.

Sur une interpellation de M. Escoffier, l'administrateur répond que le lotissement des terrains de Chatby est achevé, qu'il a été approuvé par le Conseil du Tanzim et sera soumis dans le courant de la semaine à l'approbation du Ministère des Travaux Publics.

En vue de ne pas perdre de temps, la Commission prie le Comité d'évaluation d'établir le plus tôt possible la valeur initiale des lots pour la mise à prix et invite l'administration à préparer en même temps les projets de cahier des charges pour ces terrains, lesquels seront soumis à la Commission.

En raison de ce que quelques membres s'étaient retirés, et le quorum ne permettant plus la continuation des délibérations, la Commission ajourne pour la prochaine séance l'examen de l'interpellation de M. Escoffier sur la question de l'établissement d'une baraque en bois au terminus de la ligne de Ramleh.

La séance est levée à 7 h. 1/2 p.m.

LES MAISONS ECONOMIQUES ET LES CITES-JARDINS

M. Bourgeois, directeur de la Cie du Gaz, a fait mercredi soir à l'Université Populaire une conférence sur les maisons économiques. En parlant des premiers efforts tentés ici pour trancher cette question épineuse, il constate d'abord que les promoteurs ont fait fausse route en s'adressant aux autorités administratives. M. Bourgeois veut qu'on s'adresse à l'initiative privée, qu'on éveille dans le peuple des sentiments de solidarité et de coopération, et à l'appui de sa thèse il cite les résultats obtenus de cette façon en Europe et surtout en Angleterre où de grands philanthropes s'occupent de faire œuvre durable.

Quant au meilleur système à adopter, l'éminent conférencier se déclare à juste titre contre les fameux blocs précomisés par M. Alderson et la commission des locataires et appelés à devenir des centres de contagion et de maladies; il se prononce au contraire en faveur de la maison avec jardin proposée par M. Zoure et que nous avons à diverses reprises recommandée dans notre journal.

Les distances ont disparu aujourd'hui grâce aux rapides moyens de transports, et il n'y a plus de raison de se grouper comme autrefois dans des centres populeux et malsains.

M. Bourgeois voudrait donc qu'on construisît au Mex et à Kom-el-Dik des cités jardins à l'instar de celles qui ont déjà fait leurs preuves en Angleterre pour leur supériorité hygiénique, économique, récréative et morale. On élèverait des maisons à un seul étage, qui, le jardin et la cour compris, occuperaient une superficie totale de 444 mètres carrés. En supposant à ces terrains une valeur moyenne de 300 L.E. le feddan, l'emplacement nécessaire ne coûterait brut que 30 L.E et 40 L.E. tout nivelé. La construction, qui se composerait de 5 chambres, reviendrait à L.E. 180, soit en tout 220 L.E. qui, au taux de 5 %, représenterait un loyer de 11 L.E. par an, soit 9 P.T. par jour. En payant un loyer de L.E. 21 1/2 par an, soit 7 P.T. par jour, le locataire deviendrait propriétaire au bout de 15 années.

Nous n'avons pas l'espace voulu pour donner à cette intéressante conférence tout le développement qu'elle mérite, mais qu'il nous suffise aujourd'hui de dire que voilà un beau champ ouvert pour l'initiative privée sans sacrifice d'argent de sa part, puisque la combinaison ci-dessus rapporterait du 4 %.

PROPOSED ISSUE OF 19,308 FURTHER 5½ % CUMULATIVE PREFERENCE SHARES OF £10 EACH.

The Board of Directors of the above Company are proposing to offer the above Shares at the price of £12. 10. 0 per Share pro rata to those existing Proprietors who are known to the Company in the proportion of one new Share for every five shares (either Preference or Deferred) already held. In order that a form of offer with full particulars duly filled in with form of acceptance attached may be issued to holders of Share Warrants to bearer, those holders of Warrants who wish to participate are hereby notified that they must first deposit their Warrants either at the London Office of the Company, 211/214 Gresham House, Old Broad Street, E.C. or at the National Bank of Egypt, Cairo or Alexandria, or if that is inconvenient the Warrants can be deposited with some recognised Bankers who will issue a Certificate in exchange stating that they hold the Warrants on account of the Depositors with their names and addresses and the particulars of the Warrants deposited and will continue to hold the same until after the 29th April, in which case such Banker's Certificate can be lodged at the London Office of the Company or at the National Bank of Egypt, Cairo or Alexandria, in lieu of the bearer Warrants themselves.

Depositors must be made in banking hours between the 15th April and the 29th April 1905 (both dates inclusive) when the form of offer above referred to and form of acceptance attached, together with a receipt for the Warrants or Banker's certificate will be issued to the Depositor.

Deposited Warrants will be handed out against receipt at any time after the said 29th April 1905.

With the above-mentioned acceptance applications may also be made for any surplus Shares not taken up by shareholders to the full pro rata amount to which they are entitled.

By order of the Board,
F. J. HORNE,
Secretary.

Cotons.—Sur une demande relativement forte surgie pour compte d'un gros faiseur, le cours du mai a été poussé jusqu'à près de 13 3/4. Beaucoup d'affaires ont été traitées et on s'attend à une continuation du mouvement à la reprise des affaires samedi prochain.

La nouvelle récolte a été soutenue, maintenue.

PHARMACY IN EGYPT.

LORD CROMER'S REPLY.

MEETING AT ALEXANDRIA.

An important meeting of the International Society of Pharmacists of Alexandria will be held on Tuesday next in order to read Lord Cromer's reply to the pharmacists in regard to the new regulations, and to discuss matters of general interest appertaining to the profession. The following resumé of the situation will be of interest in view of this meeting.

The protests of the Pharmaceutical Societies of Cairo and Alexandria against certain clauses of the new Pharmacy Regulations, and notably against Clause II., having failed to move the authorities, it was resolved, as a last resource, that the members should appeal to their respective diplomatic agents, and a petition was drawn up, which stated in effect that the new Pharmacy Law for Egypt, published in September last by the Sanitary Authority, and approved by the Mixed Court of Appeal at Alexandria, had raised just protestations on the part of the qualified pharmacists. It was admitted that the new law was a real step towards progress, but that Clause II. took away pharmacy from the real pharmacists and delivered it over to commerce and speculation, inasmuch as it authorised any person to carry on a pharmacy and to sell and prepare medicines so long as a qualified chemist is in charge. It was pointed out that in such a case the qualified man must submit to every caprice of the capitalist and that between the two there must exist a certain antagonism, which would be to the public detriment. On the other hand, qualified chemists without much capital would find little or no opportunity of establishing themselves on their own account. No European pharmaceutical legislation, it was shown, makes mention of such an irregularity. Even Turkey (under Capitulations like Egypt) takes no exception to the rule that the qualified chemist has alone the right to open and to carry on a pharmacy. The International Associations of Cairo and Alexandria therefore desired to protest against Article II., and requested that the necessary steps be taken to secure its abrogation and replacement by the following:

"No one shall in Egypt exercise the profession of pharmacist, carry on a pharmacy, or sell any medicament unless he has a diploma from a recognised faculty and has obtained authorisation from the Sanitary Administration. Also no pharmacist shall carry on or possess more than one pharmacy."

The petitioners asserted that they did not wish to modify the status of existing pharmacies run by unqualified proprietors, so long as they have a responsible pharmacist in charge; but they desire that for the future only qualified chemists shall be able to buy or open a pharmacy. They stated their conviction also that a pharmacist delegated by their associations should be present at all inspections of pharmacies. A petition to this effect, signed by the President of the Association and by the English chemists established in Cairo, was duly presented to Lord Cromer, who replied at length. He began by expressing his entire agreement with the principle advocated—that, on the whole, a system under which the ownership of pharmacies is restricted to qualified pharmacists offers greater guarantees to the public than one under which the owner may be unqualified. He believed that this view was largely shared by the public, and that the mention upon the façade of an establishment that the owner is not himself qualified will go far towards securing what the pharmacists desire. The practical question, however, was not what system would theoretically be most satisfactory, but what system can be most effectively enforced in Egypt, having regard to the restrictions on its legislative powers under which the Egyptian Government labours. In this connection Lord Cromer quoted from the letter addressed to the petitioners by the Director-General of the Sanitary Department on December 14, 1904, in which he dealt with the point in question as follows:—

"As regards the ownership of pharmacies, I have to observe that the rights of foreigners under the Capitulations again necessarily limit the action of the Government. The Government has power, with the consent of the Mixed Court of Appeal, to make regulations of general application in the interest of public health, but it has very little power of dealing with rights of property. Now, it happens that the successful conduct of a pharmacy requires not only professional skill, but also some amount of capital, and in the course of time there adheres to it a right of property of the most valuable kind—that of the goodwill of the business. It did not appear to the Government essential for the protection of the public health that the professional skill and the requisite capital should be united in the same hands. That being so, it was clear that if their unions was to be insisted on it would have been to avoid dealing with the question of goodwill unless the heirs of a pharmacist who died without having provided a successor were to have been seriously prejudiced. We were advised that any attempt to deal with this question would have raised questions as to rights of property which might have been fatal to the regulations as a whole. My department was the more ready to accede to this view because we were convinced that any rules in the sense you suggest would have been particularly easy of evasion. Once a pharmacist has taken out his license to practise, he is free to open a pharmacy after notification to the Department, and the Department has no right to inquire as to the source from which the necessary capital is obtained, nor as to the terms upon which it is obtained. Were a series of young pharmacists, known to be in possession of no capital, successively to occupy the same pharmacy, taking over in turn the stock of drugs, etc., there would be a very strong presumption that they were in fact the salaried servants of the true proprietor of the establishment, but we were advised that no such presumption could be drawn in law. The frank recognition of the facts by the regulations has at least the advantage that, if the proprietor delares himself, the regulations subject him to a certain measure of control, which would be otherwise impossible."

Lord Cromer then proceeded to show that it was clear that the question under discussion was decided by the Legal Adviser to the Government rather than by the Sanitary Department on professional grounds. On the legal point he hesitated to express any personal opinion, but he had before him a copy of definite proposals formulated some time before by the committee of the Alexandria International Association of Chemists for the amendment of the new law. In that he observed that the committee was impressed by the possible hardship which might result for the widow and orphans of a pharmacist under the rule proposed, and that it drafted somewhat elaborate provisions for meeting the case. Whatever opinion one might form as to the utility of the provisions then suggested, it was at least clear that they proposed to create a form of property in a pharmacist's business which might for many years remain in the hands of persons other than qualified pharmacists. All his experience of the very limited scope within which regulations approved by the Mixed Court of Appeal require to be kept, led him to believe that any regulations on the subject under discussion must either recognise a goodwill in a pharmacist's business which shall be freely transferable, or shall refuse to recognise any such goodwill at all, and that the system of free transfer of goodwill is probably the one which will work most efficiently and with least friction. He deprecated the anticipation of the petitioners that the system embodied in the new law would cause serious prejudice to qualified pharmacists employed as managers. He thought their fears were somewhat exaggerated. The view taken by such managers themselves, as expressed in a petition to the Director-General of the Sanitary Department, was that the new law, by regulating a situation which already existed, had already improved their position pecuniarily. Although he could not conceal from himself the fact that the petitioners were likely to remain hostile to the particular provision in question, he trusted they would recognise that it was forced upon the Government by the facts of the situation, rather than adopted by choice, and that they may find in practice that it will not produce the regrettable consequences they are inclined to anticipate.

EGYPTIAN MINING.

EGYPT AND SUDAN MINING SYNDICATE.

The latest information available respecting this syndicate's Negem mine is contained in a report dated the end of last month in which Mr. Llewellyn remarks: "the reef is as good as ever." The adit has been driven a total distance of 57 ft., and the last sample taken from the reef over a breadth of 3½ ft. panned 3 oz. gold to the ton. The reef was afterwards disturbed by a cross vein, and although subsequent panning has given results of 4 oz. and over, the reef is still unsettled, and most of the quartz is in the form of small irregular stringers. The No. 1 shaft has reached a depth of 47 ft., but is not yet on the reef. No. 2 shaft is now 52 ft. deep, and the reef is from 1 ft. 9 in. to 2 ft. wide, with a value of from half an ounce to 3 oz. to the ton. The reef in the bottom is said to be improving.

This mine is in the Berber district, where the syndicate has a concession. The syndicate holds 51,671 fully-paid and 20,000 partly-paid shares (7s. 6d. per share called up) in the Sudan Gold Field.

The following cable was despatched last week: "Barrahine shaft unbottomed workings at a depth of 117ft. The average thickness of the quartz is 2ft. 6in.; the quartz contains rich ore." The above message relates to the operations being carried on at the old workings situated at Barrahine on the syndicate's concession.

EGYPTIAN MINES EXPLORATION CO.

Mr. C. J. Alford has furnished the following summary of the month's operations: Atallah Mine—March 18, No. 1 Shaft, 260 ft. at this level cross-cut to vein is started; 170ft. level north-east, total length 64ft, vein at end 10in wide, assaying 6oz 15dwt gold per ton; No. 3 Incline, cross-cut to vein at 300ft (corresponding with 260ft in No. 1 Shaft), 25ft. hard granite. Eridia Mine—March 26, No. 1 Shaft; 50ft level south, struck intact vein again at 76ft from shaft, veins 30in wide, assaying 1oz 1dwt gold per ton; at 150ft level cross-cut to vein is in 12ft. No. 1 Crosscut, north drive, last 16ft vein averaged 10in wide, 17dwt gold. Winze down 42ft vein 14in, 6dwt. No. 2 Crosscut, north drive, last 19ft averaged 16in, with 1oz 7dwt gold per ton. Winze down 42ft, vein 18in, with 12dwt. No. 3 Shaft, 100ft, level north, last 17ft, vein averaged 13in wide, with 1oz 2dwt gold per ton. 100ft level south, struck into ancient workings. Semna Mine—March 28. No. 1 Shaft, 75ft level east, vein at end 12in wide, 2oz 5dwt gold per ton. No. 2 Shaft, 93ft, granite, 50ft level east, vein 48in wide 3½dwt gold. 50ft level west, 23ft, vein 55in wide, 18dwt gold per ton. No. 3 Shaft, 57ft, no change.

Mr. C. J. Alford, who left for England lately, intends coming out to Egypt about the month of October next in order to prospect the area situated a little to the north of Khartoum, and extending as far as Korti, which has been promised to the Victoria Investment Corporation. Mr. Alford will organise an expedition for the purpose.

NUBIA SUDAN DEVELOPMENT CO.

A report to the Nubia Sudan Development Co. by Mr. P. O. Wilson, of a very voluminous character, has been received in London. It shows the result of an apparently careful and conscientious examination. He regards the progress made as satisfactory, and thinks the evidence indisputable that the ancients had rich ore upon which to work. He further insists that "the rich chutes will continue under their workings," and he adds: "I think our goal is now in sight."

UM RUS.

The following is the return for the month of March: "446 tons of ore crushed: 351 oz. of bar gold produced, valued at £1,189; 360 tons of tailings stored of an average assay value of 3 dwt. per ton. Mill ran 12 days of 24 hours."

NILE VALEY.

The report from the mine, dated April 1, is as follows: "No. 1 stope north, No. 2 level—Within the last few days we have commenced stoping ground from the bottom of No. 1 winze, beating north. The stope has been carried 8 ft, the reef averaging for this distance 3 ft. 6 in. in width, some few pieces of visible gold having been met with. This stope, as you will readily understand, is under the rich shute met with in No. 1, and it is our intention, as soon as possible, to commence work where this rich gold was found higher up the winze. In order to do this, however, it is necessary for us to square off the stope at the bottom. No. 2 rise north—Stope north has been carried a total distance of 54 ft., being an advance of 11 ft. 6 ins. for the week. For this distance the reef averaged 16 ins. No. 3 rise north—Stope south: During the last two or three days we have commenced stoping south in No. 3 rise, to communicate with the stope going north from the No. 2 rise. The stope has been carried 5 ft. 6 ins., during which distance the reef averaged 2 ft. No. 5 Shaft—Work has continued steadily during the past week, and very good progress has been made in cutting the plat at the 200 ft. level, which should be finished and the cross-cut commenced during the next week. New battery—The riveting of the No. 4 tailings tank should be completed within the next few days, when the caulking will be proceeded with immediately. The wooden table for the battery plate is finished, and the water reservoir should be ready within the next two days. The worm wheel and pulley for the endless wire rope have been erected at the bottom end of the inclined tramway."

ARMY AND NAVY.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

Lieutenant-Colonel J. K. Watson, C. M. G., D. S. O., King's Royal Rifle Corps, who has just taken up the duties of aide-de-camp to the Khedive, is, I believe, the first British officer who has been appointed to that office. Lieutenant-Colonel Watson has worn the green jacket for just 20 years, having got his first appointment in April, 1885. His company came to him in 1893 and his present substantive rank in October, 1902. His first active service was in the Chin Hill Expedition, 1891-92, and four years later he went through the Dongola Expedition as aide-de-camp to Sir Herbert Kitchener (mentioned in despatches, D. S. O., medal, and Khedive's medal). He held a similar appointment in Kitchener's advance to Khartoum via the Atbara and Omdurman (twice mentioned in despatches, brevet majority, and two clasps), and he earned another mention and the 4th Class of the Osmanieh in the operations of 1899, when he was D. A. A. G. to the flying column which finally squared accounts with the Khalifa. He was again aide-de-camp to Lord Kitchener in the Boer War of 1899-1901 (mentioned in despatches, medal with clasps), and in April of the latter year joined the Egyptian Army at Cairo as an A. A. G. on the headquarter staff. Lieutenant-Colonel Watson is an officer of tried ability, and his appointment to the Khedive's personal staff is a decided compliment.

London, April 17.

Captain and Brevet Major Hessey, Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, who recently vacated the appointment of aide-de-camp to Major General Leach, V.C., late commanding the Belfast District, has been ordered to join the 2nd Battalion at Cairo on absorption. Major Hessey was with the 1st Battalion in the late Boer War, including the battle of Colenso, where he was severely wounded, the actions of Vaal-Krantz, Tugela Heights, Pieter's Hill, and those of Belfast and Lydenberg, in the campaign east of Pretoria (mentioned in despatches, medal with four clasps).

In addition to Captain C. G. M. Blomfield, 4th Battalion Royal Warwickshire Regiment, Curragh, Captain J. P. Hawksley, 113th Battery R.F.A., Shorncliffe, and Lieutenant C. H. Lucas, 2nd Battalion Royal Berkshire Regiment, have been selected for service with the Khedive's troops. Captain Hawksley joined the Royal Artillery in September, 1897, was promoted captain last July, and saw a lot of service in the late Boer War. He was with the 42nd Field Battery at the actions of Elandslaatge, Rietfontein, and Lombard's Kop, which preceded the siege of Ladysmith, and afterwards participated in the defence of that garrison and the actions of Lydenberg and Belfast (medal with four clasps and mentioned in despatches). Lieutenant Lucas has served seven years in the Royal Berks and holds the medal with three clasps for the campaign in the Transvaal, Orange River Colony and Cape Colony.

A despatch from the Mediterranean states that the majority of the ships on that station made good practice at the recent quarterly firing. Not a few of the ships needed a bit of pulling up in straight shooting.
